HIGGS & JOHNSON HOSTS 'HEART' DAY

Higgs & Johnson spearheaded a community outreach initiative called 'Heart Day' in the spirit of giving back on Friday 28 November 2014 at the Cayman Islands Cancer Society and Humane Society. At the Cancer Society, persons were divided into two groups; the gardening team (top photo) and the office team (bottom photo). The office team assembled Christmas cards for sale and promotional / health brochures. The gardening team assisted with the beautification of the grounds on the outside.

At the Humane Society (middle photo), whose mission is to provide shelter, care and attention to all unwanted companion animals and seek out responsible and loving homes for them, volunteers participated in dog walking and socialization of cats. They were happy to be a part of promoting positive relationships between animals and people.

Country Managing Partner, Gina M. Berry noted, "Higgs & Johnson employees and family members participated in this volunteering venture. It was a successful afternoon with participants fully enjoying being able to make a meaningful contribution to both Societies."
